

How to Open a Yahoo Mail or Gmail Account

Even if you already have e-mail from your Internet Service Provider (ISP) and are using either Outlook Express or Windows Mail, there are several advantages to having a web based e-mail account:

Web-based e-mail means world-wide availability, wherever you can get an Internet connection.

All mail is stored online, allows for maximum portability as nothing is kept locally on your computer.

A second e-mail account allows you to supplement your ISP e-mail, which is typically used for personal e-mail. A second e-mail account can be used for business and commercial purposes.

Two of the most popular web-based e-mail providers are Yahoo (Yahoo Mail) and Google (Gmail)

Setting up a Yahoo E-Mail Account

1. Click the Internet Explorer button  in the lower left corner of the screen. The program opens at the Yahoo web site.

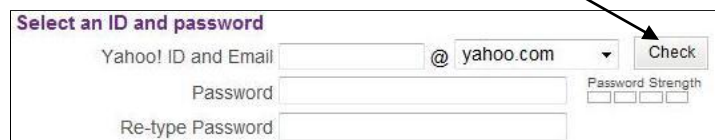

2. To start a new Yahoo e-mail account, click the button for Yahoo Mail

3. In the Sign In to Yahoo window, click Create New Account

4. Fill in all the information requested in the upper part of the sign-in sheet. (First and last name, gender, birthday, country and postal code)

5. In the “Select an ID and password” section, Yahoo will offer a suggested ID. Either accept the suggested ID or type a desired ID and click the Check button. If the ID is not accepted, try another.
